

Publish

Adheses processes changes to campaigns, bookings, creatives, etc... during its publish cycle. Any changed setting that has been saved will take into effect when the running or next publish has finished.

This also applies to automatic changes to campaigns or bookings. A booking or campaign that has met its goal will stop delivering at the end of the next publish cycle. A booking or campaign set to start running at a certain date will do so when that date arrives and the publish has finished.

The publish cycle happens automatically every hour on the hour, but a publish can also be manually engaged through the publish button.

USER ADMIN - LOG OFF

The publish takes some time to process all changes. For larger accounts this can take longer.

New publishes don't overwrite, merge or queue after current running publishes. If a publish is already running, the new manual publish will be ignored. If you wish to engage a manual publish, wait for the previous publish to finish.
