

Adhese support

The Adhese Support Team is dedicated to answering all your questions, resolving any issues and helping you to become familiar with the ins and outs of Adhese.

Before sending a request to the Support Team, we advise you to consult the Adhese documentation. You will find a Help button in the top right corner of the Adhese interface, which redirects you to the documentation of the Adhese platform. Check if your question or problem has already been reported or solved.

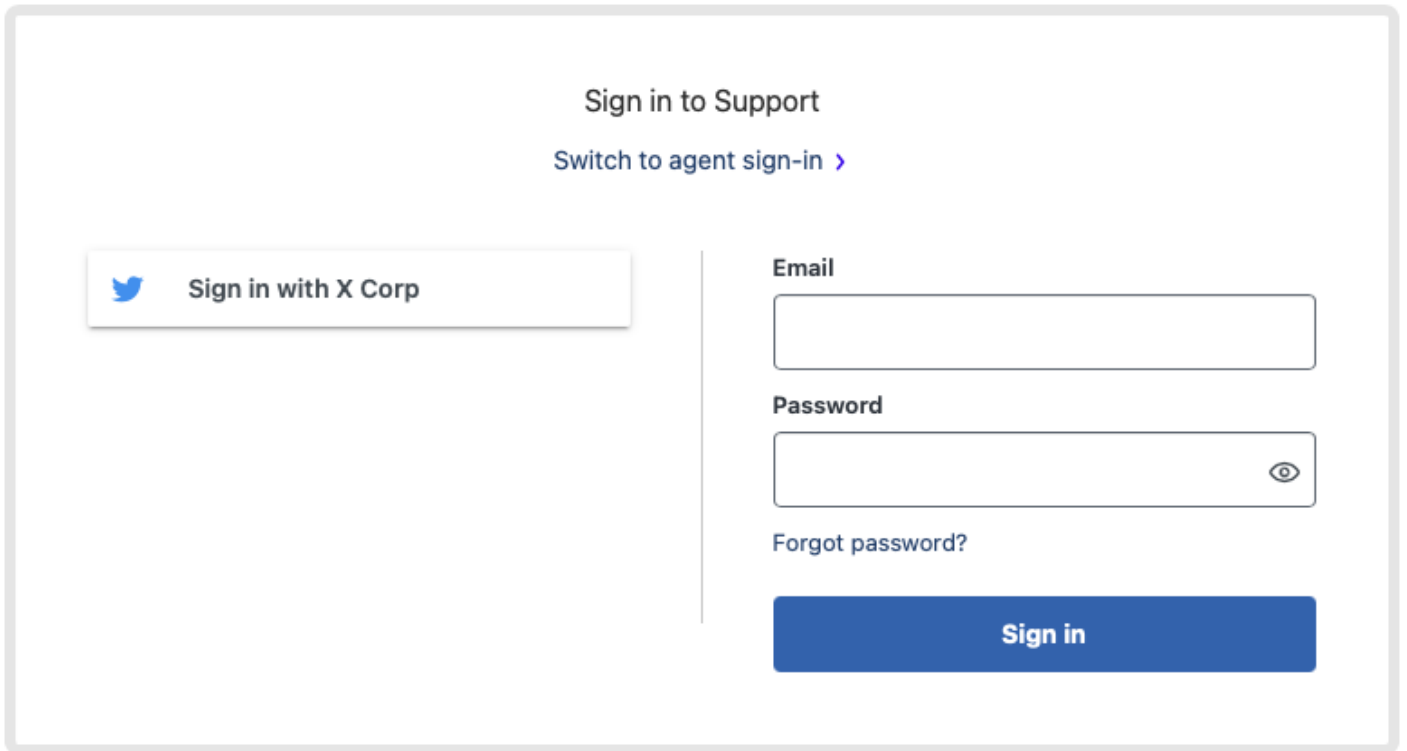

When contacting support, please try to provide as much information as possible.

The My Activities screen provides a summary of the requests you and your co-workers have submitted. You can filter the overview by the following request statuses: Any, Open, Awaiting your reply and Solved. It is also possible to search through all tickets by using the Search Requests search bar above the ticket overview.

- To check the progress or status of a ticket, click on it in the My Requests list. This will open the conversation between the requester and Support. The column on the right summarises the details of the request, such as who submitted it, its priority and any attachments uploaded.

Request statuses

A request or support ticket can have one of the following statuses:

- Open: An open request is not solved yet, but Support is working on the request.
- Awaiting your reply: A request that is waiting for your response is Pending. This means that Support has asked the requester for additional information or a question and is waiting for the requester to respond. The request will be pending until the requester responds to Support.
- Solved: When a request is solved, it is possible to reopen it by adding a comment. The status will change to open. A solved ticket becomes a closed ticket after 28 days.
- Closed: You cannot reopen a closed ticket by adding a comment. If you want to reply to a closed request, create a follow-up request by clicking the Create a follow-up link at the bottom of the closed request.
